

MUMMY MEDITATIONS CHAMPIONS

Mummy Meditations is a growing community of Christian mums, brought together by a common goal to grow closer to God during the chaos of motherhood and to dig deeper into His word in a manageable and guilt-free way.

With a flourishing Facebook community, and more ways than ever for mums to get involved, it is a great time to start looking for those who want to become more involved. For this reason, we are now recruiting Mummy Meditations Champions.

WHAT WILL IT ENTAIL

Mummy Meditations Champions will:

- Promote the Mummy Meditations Community on their social media and in real life, telling other mums about how to get involved and the benefits of joining.
- Be active in the weekly discussions in the Facebook group, helping others feel at ease and able to comment.
- Be offered opportunities to write the weekly summary post (published on a Sunday) and co-host/host the weekly Facebook Live Discussions (Mondays at 9pm). Possibly also access to Instagram account to add stories and posts.
- Be sent exclusive rewards and offers in exchange for being a champion

WHO IS IT AIMED AT

This is aimed at those who want to develop their skills of writing or presenting, who have a passion for Mummy Meditations and the community that has evolved around it and who want to get involved more actively. You may have some free-time each week that you can use to fulfil this role.

As this is a position of trust, where those made Champions will be given log in details to the Mummy Meditations website, those who apply should have shown their commitment to this by being active in the Facebook community and sharing posts and comments.

HOW DO I APPLY

You can apply either by emailing rachel@mummymeditations.co.uk or by completing the online form on the website. Please state any experience you may have that would be useful (e.g. use of Wordpress websites)

Not all applications will be successful but we hope to be able to allow as many members of the Mummy Meditations Community to become Champions as we can.
